DESPICABLE!

Police appeal after attack leaves 100-year-old woman shaken

By Julia Gregory

julia.gregory@nlhnews.co.uk

A 100-YEAR-OLD woman has been "badly affected" after she was pushed to the ground and robbed of her handbag in a "despicable attack" outside her front door in South Tottenham.

Alexteen Roberts – who has since turned 101 – was on her way home from a prayer meeting in Wood Green 5pm when she was approached by a man who said he was there "to do electrics".

He was told she did not need any electrical work doing and the man, who was about 35, pushed her to the ground during the incident in broad daylight on August 23.

He grabbed her handbag, which contained between £200 and £300, along with her glasses and personal items.

The former seamstress and mother of nine called out to her grandson Ashley Aitcheson who was in her home and he gave chase as the man ran off, dropping some keys on the road.

He was spotted in the Sherboro Road area, before heading on to the High Road (A10) towards Seven Sisters Road.

Mr Aitcheson, 31, said: "It was my worst nightmare to see her outside like that.

He added: "It has affected her quite badly. It has affected her confidence."

His grandmother has lived in the area for about 20 years.

She was not taken for hospital for a check up but was not hurt.

Detective Chief Inspector Luke Marks from Wood Green CID said the incident had left the elderly woman shaken up.

"This was a despicable attack on a very elderly lady who lived independently and is now fearful to return home."

He praised her refusal to be taken in by the man.

"At 100-years-old she had the sense and foresight to dismiss the suspect when he tried to con her into unnecessary electrical work, but he decided to mug her instead."

He said the woman is "naturally extremely distressed and shaken by what happened."

Police are appealing for help to catch the man before he targets anyone else.

Mr Marks said: "Did you see him running from the area on August 23, pursued by another man and making off along the A10?"

Witnesses should call police on 020 3276 3083 or anonymously on Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Man jailed for double estate agent robbery

A GUNMAN has been jailed after targeting estate agents in two terrifying robberies.

Mark O'Reilly, 24, struck in Gladstone Avenue, Wood Green, on June 21, when he met an agent to view a home.

A week earlier another 24-year-old estate agent met O'Reilly, at a property in east London.

In each case he threatened his victim with a sawn-off double barrelled shotgun, which later proved to be an imitation firearm, stealing cash, bank cards and an iPad.

On Friday, at Snaresbrook Crown Court O'Reilly, of no fixed address, was sentenced to 12 years' imprisonment for three robberies and 15 years for two offences of possession of an imitation firearm in commission, to run concurrently.

Fatal knife attack: man is remanded

A 23-year-old man appeared at the Old Bailey on Monday charged with murder following the fatal stabbing of a man in Wood Green.

Jose Felix Santana Bevides, of no fixed address, is accused of the killing of Valdir Pereira Olivio, 44, at an address in Pellatt Grove on Monday, September 5.

He was remanded in custody to re-appear for a pre-trial hearing on Monday, November 28.

A trial date has been set for Wednesday, February 20 next year.

It's a welcome return for Simba (not Sparky)

A CAT who travelled 60 miles in the engine of a van has been reunited with his owner in Tottenham in a purrfect ending to his travels after she spotted his picture on the Advertiser's Facebook page.

The ginger tom cat was given the nickname Sparky by RSCPA staff after a passer-by spotted the distressed feline in Reading in Berkshire.

It was thought that the cat made the whole journey in the van's engine and had "boiling hot" paws when he was found on Bank Holiday Sunday.

The cat's real name is Simba and he was reunited with his owner Gemma Davis last Saturday.

The anxious cat lover, who lives in the White Hart Lane area of Tottenham, saw her pet's photo on the Advertiser's Facebook page.

She phoned the the Reading branch of the RPSCA which was caring for Simba. RSPCA spokeswoman Catherine Peerless said they were inundated from calls from people who were missing pets.

She thanked Advertiser readers for helping with Simba's return. She said: "I believe it was actually your press report which was copied onto a local Facebook page which helped reunite him with his owner!"

Staff sifted through calls to make sure Simba went back to the right home.

Ms Peerless said the friendly and energetic cat had a full health check by vets. Simba has also been chipped so if he goes missing again it will be easy to reunite him with his owner.

Darren Sumner who found Simba said he had to coax the animal away from the van and cared for the cat overnight.

RSPCA staff turned detective using a photo of the van to discover where it was based and put out leaflets around Tottenham.

They are urging pet owners to get their animals microchipped.

Council officers and RSPCA inspectors carry scanners which can help them track down an animal's owner quickly.

Some animal charities and organisations offer microchipping for free or it can cost around £15.

Anyone who is interested in adopting a cat should contact the RSPCA's adoption centre in Pegasus Way, Friern Barnet on 0300 1230594.

Hospital confident watchdog will welcome changes at A&E

By Julia Gregory

julia.gregory@nlhnews.co.uk

A TEAM of troubleshooters believe changes they brought in at the A & E department at North Middlesex Hospital will impress a health watchdog.

The acting chief executive trained nurse Libby McManus has been confirmed in the top job.

She takes over from the previous chief Julie Lowe, who has just taken up a post at North East London's sustainability transformation plan.

The Care Quality Commission gave the A & E department an inadequate rating and said medical care needed improvement after an unannounced inspection in April.

Experts visiting on follow up inspections said the hospital in Sterling Way has turned the corner.

A team of 20 CQC inspectors and advisers are due at the hospital for a four day inspection starting on Tuesday (September 20).

The new clinical director of A&E Dr Turan Huyesin told the Advertiser: "I think there's been a huge improvement."

He said the number of consultants had increased from eight to 16.

The moves were made after the CQC said there were insufficient middle grade doctors and consultants on duty.

The new A&E matron Gemma Davies pointed out some of the improvements she has brought in together with the A&E team to turn the department around.

Turnaround: New A&E matron Gemma Davies has brought in improvements

She has started a "pod" area where triage nurses assess patients arriving at the Edmonton Green hospital.

"The other stream that we now have is urgent care where patients can see an urgent care GP," she said.

Another innovation is the transformation of one bay in the emergency department into an "Pit Stop" for six patients to avoid patients waiting in a corridor for treatment. "This is a protected space. We've taken a trolley from the cubicle and put chairs in the space," said Ms Davies.

Support services have also been increased with staff offering refreshments to patients being seen.

Patient Rosemary Georgalla, 61, from Crews Hill told the Advertiser: "I am concerned about the report."

Craig Marshall, 36, from Edmonton who was treated for a broken hand said: "The staff are brilliant."

Still blooming marvellous

THERE was a celebration across the borough after a number of parks and green spaces won awards.

A total of ten parks were given gongs after competing at the Enfield in Bloom Awards, earlier this year in July.

Awards were given to schools, residents and pubs who took part in the competition, including public spaces.

Winners of the Best Maintained Park were Bury Lodge and Bromfield park, who won gold, Town Park won silver, and Grovelands and Forty Hall park were awarded bronze.

Firs Farm Wetlands and Edmondton cemetery won gold for the Highway Bed and Open Space Planting category.

Lavender Hill cemetery entrance was given silver and Pymmes park Wetlands was awarded bronze. Forty Hall's Walled Garden also won gold in the 'Exceptional Horticulture Category'.

To celebrate the achievement councillor Daniel Anderson, Enfield Council's cabinet member for environment joined councillor Yasemin Brett, cabinet member for community, arts and culture in a visit to Forty Hall park.

Friends of Forty Hall member, Jo-Ann Brown gave them a tour of the gardens and the wildlife which it attracts.

Mr Anderson said: "I would like to thank our gardening staff, together with our Friends of Parks groups, who have demonstrated a remarkable degree of skill and ability to produce such spectacular displays.

"I congratulate them all on the fruits of their labours."

Gift for twin town

A STUNNING stained glass decoration has been specially made as a gift for Enfield's twin town in north Germany.

The artwork features Enfield borough's symbol the Enfield beest.

It was made by artist Debbie Dean at her glassworks in Montagu Road in Edmonton and was handed over at Gladbeck's annual apple tart festival.

It is traditional for all the German city's twins to attend the festival and exchange gifts.

Enfield has been twinned with Gladbeck since 1954.

Children with disabilities from Gladbeck will visit Enfield for a football tournament next month.

Enfield's mayor Bernadette Lappage presented the artwork to Gladbeck at a ceremony earlier this month.

The gift highlighted the talent of craft makers working in Enfield.

Vanessa all set to give it her best shot in Rio

By Priya Kingsley-Adam

priya.kingsley-adam@nlhnews.co.uk

A DISABLED woman who was confined to her bed has triumphed over her disability to compete at the Rio paralympics in Brazil in the shot put.

Vanessa Daobry, 39, who trains at Lee Valley Athletics Centre in Meridian way, Edmonton, was born with a neurological and muscular skeleton condition, which causes her body to go into abnormal postures.

She has used a wheelchair for the past nine years, and just after 18 months of starting the sport she is ranked fourth in the world and second in Europe.

Ms Daobry, who is from Haringey, will compete in the F34 competition on Wednesday and has attributed her success to her coach, Alison O'Riordan, and support staff at University of East London (UEL).

"It's a total team effort" she said, "It wouldn't have happened without everyone's involvement in helping to make me into an athlete."

Ms Daobry joined the Haringey Wheelers Club in 2012 to improve her muscle strength and started weight training at UEL.

Her coach, Alison, spotted her potential to become a shot put thrower after recognising she had the right physique for the sport.

"It's all down to her work ethic and her wanting to make a change in her life," Alison said.

"She has some physical attributes – the fact that she's long-limbed and tall. But she has never had a sporting background so it's been a complete learning experience for her," she added.

After returning from Rio, Ms Daobry will start a BSc degree in sport and exercise science at UEL.

"I'm looking forward to the whole experience – being part of the team, meeting new athletes," she said. "I'm looking forward to everything, but especially the competition and really seeing where I am.

"I would love a medal but I want to try to be realistic and just do the best that I can. I have to accept that I am a new athlete and I'm still learning. But as long as I can live up to my expectations, I'll be happy."

Roll out the barrels

By Priya Kingsley-Adam

priya.kingsley-adam@nlhnews.co.uk

AN award-winning craft brewery, which uses natural ingredients in its beer, has attracted a number of loyal customers.

As well as supplying to pubs and shops across the UK, Redemption Brewery has remained popular across the borough and neighbouring areas.

When it started brewing back in 2010 it was only one of five breweries in London, but there are now more than 90.

Redemption, which is in West Road, Tottenham, produces seven cask ales, and brews a new beer each season which is only available for a limited time. They also make a range of collaborative brews.

Andy Moffat, who owns Redemption Brewery with his wife, Sam Rigby, said: "We make interesting beers and people like to support local breweries so we have built up a good reputation."

Their beer is made from malt, water and hops and they produce up to 5,000 litres two or three times a week. It takes a day to make the beer mixture and involves mashing down the barley, which is then boiled to extract the sugar. Hops, which are the flowers used as a stability agent, are then added and left to cool.

Finally, yeast is added to the mixture and it is left for five days to go through the fermenting process which turns it into alcohol.

Mr Moffat added: "There is a demand for local produce and we are able to build a good relationship with our customers."

Investigators probe arson at farmhouse

By Julia Gregory
julia.gregory@nlhnews.co.uk

FIRE investigators believe two fires which destroyed buildings at an Enfield farm over two days were the work of arsonists.

Firefighters were called to Sloemans Farm in Whitewebbs Road on Monday night to put out a barn fire, just a day after the unoccupied farmhouse and a barn went up in smoke.

A team of 21 firefighters from Enfield and Edmonton fire stations were called out to the second fire just before midnight. They were able to bring the fire under control about 2am.

Part of the wooden and brick barn was destroyed in the blaze.

The farm was sold to Enfield Council in 2014 for an estimated £2.5 million.

Nobody is living at Sloemans Farm and it is farmed under a farm business tenancy.

On Sunday night, flames ripped through the roof of the unoccupied farmhouse. Six fire engines and 35 firefighters from fire stations in Enfield, Edmonton, Southgate, Harrow, Walthamstow and Hendon worked round the clock to try to save the building. A nearby barn was also wrecked in the fire.

Experts from London Fire Brigade and the Met Police are investigating the cause of both fires and a spokesman said they were treating the blazes as suspected arson.

The council's managing agents are also inspecting the damage to the property.

Carl Newport, who lives in nearby Cattlegate Road, called the fire brigade on Sunday night.

Mr Newport said: "I could see it from the kitchen window and called 999. After that it really kicked off. The whole farm house has gone. I could see it burning from here. There were great big flames there."

He also called the fire brigade out about 7.06pm to deal with a secondary fire. A fire brigade spokesman said the blaze did not affect buildings and was brought under control by 7.30pm.

Mr Newport said he was surprised when he heard a police helicopter near the farm around midnight and saw teams of firefighters tackling another fire there.

"I thought not again – it's like Groundhog Day."

Last year fire crews saved 30 pigs and also led seven dogs to safety after 5,000 bales of hay caught fire.

Boxing clever to beat cot death

A PIONEERING project aimed at reducing the number of cot deaths in the borough has been launched by an Edmonton hospital.

Enfield has one of the highest rates of infant mortality in London, prompting North Middlesex University hospital, in Sterling way, to launch the Baby Box scheme last week.

A average of 5.8 per 1,000 babies died before the age of one every year between 2010 and 2012 in the borough, compared to a London-wide average of 4.1 per 1,000. Neighbouring Barnet had a significantly lower rate during the same time period of three infant mortalities per 1,000.

Parents will be given a special durable cardboard box for their babies to sleep in to provide them with a safe sleeping environment.

Health professionals hope they will prevent parents from sharing their beds with their babies, because infants can get overheated as a result.

The box serves as a bed until the baby is six to eight months old. The design is also believed to prevent suffocation because babies are not able to roll onto their stomachs.

The idea originates from Finland, where the boxes have helped to reduce the number of so-called cot deaths from 65 per 1,000 in 1938, to 2.26 per 1,000 in 2015.

Michelle Lynch, bereavement midwife at North Middlesex hospital, introduced the program at the hospital.

She said: "I heard about the idea and thought it sounded really interesting so I spoke to one of my colleagues who is a midwife and said we should look into it.

"Enfield's infant mortality rate is double the UK's and although they are small numbers, a baby is the most precious gift a family can have."

All change: What the Palmers Green Triangle will look like with new cycle routes

Work on cycle routes to start

By Russ Lawrence

russ.lawrence@nlhnews.co.uk

CONSTRUCTION is set to begin on the council's controversial £42 million Enfield Cycle Scheme.

Residents have been warned to expect some upheaval in the months ahead as work to install new segregated cycle routes and pedestrianised walkways in the borough's high streets and town centres is carried out.

The A105 from Green Lanes in Palmers Green to Park Avenue and London Road, Enfield Town, is the first stretch of highway to undergo construction work.

Enfield is one of three outer London boroughs to have received millions of pounds in funding from Transport for London to encourage more people to cycle as well as improve streets and public spaces for everyone.

The scheme ran into opposition from some businesses and residents with an application for a judicial review recently thrown out by a High Court Judge.

But following an 18-month public consultation in which significant modifications have been made, the work to redesign Enfield Town Centre and create segregated cycle routes linking key destinations is shortly to begin.

Cycle storage hubs are also planned at Enfield Town and Edmonton Green stations and new greenway routes will be introduced.

"This once in a lifetime opportunity will improve the look and feel of our environment, creating better streets for Enfield and more desirable destinations for shoppers and visitors. Everyone, young and old alike, will benefit," said Cllr Daniel Anderson, Enfield Council's Cabinet Member for the Environment.

"Our proposals are the culmination of an extensive engagement process with residents and businesses and it's an incredibly exciting time for Enfield.

"Though there will be an inevitable degree of disruption while the works proceed, which we are doing our utmost to minimise, ultimately the benefits will hugely outweigh the temporary inconvenience.

"However, as our population continues to grow, future generations will thank us for these visionary proposals," he added.

Charges were dropped against man carrying knives who went on to kill

A MENTALLY ill man who stabbed a new father to death on his doorstep had charges for carrying knives in Edmonton dropped just days before the fatal attack.

Timchang Nandap, pictured, pleaded guilty to the involuntary manslaughter by reason of diminished responsibility of Dr Jeroen Ensink outside his home in Islington after he had gone out to post cards to celebrate the birth of his daughter.

It emerged that Nandap had been charged with possession of a knife after he was found in Edmonton carrying two kitchen knives on May 22 last year. He also assaulted a police officer on the same day.

He appeared at Highbury Corner Magistrates' Court in October but the charges against him were formally dropped at court on Christmas Eve, just days before he fatally stabbed 41-year-old Dr Ensink.

A Crown Prosecution Service spokesman said: "The case against Timchang Nandap was discontinued on December 23 following a review that determined there was insufficient evidence to provide a realistic prospect of conviction.

"Even if the case had proceeded, the bail conditions he was subject to until his scheduled trial would not have prevented him being at the location of the incident on December 29 2015."

Timchang Nandap

The 23-year-old from Woolwich, south London, appeared at the Old Bailey via videolink yesterday and will be sentenced at the Old Bailey on October 10.

I HAVE been glued to the Paralympics in Rio marvelling and with many tears in my eyes at the scale of the human endeavour to overcome adversity.

It's thrilling to experience and I'm overcome with feelings of hope and pride.

It's a rollercoaster of emotions following the Olympics when the Enfield athletes Charlotte Dujardin, Chris Walker-Hebborn and Desiree Henry brought gold, silver and bronze medals in equestrian, swimming and athletics back to the UK.

We're blessed in Enfield to have sports facilities and parks and open spaces right across the borough with lots of organisations and individuals, both professional and volunteer, who are dedicated to providing opportunities for all ages to participate in leisure and sport.

And yet we have growing health problems in our communities because of growing inactivity. Enfield Council have a new campaign called #MoveMoreEnfield which encourages everyone to make small changes in their lives to be more active, whether that's taking the stairs instead of the lift, walking or cycling to work instead of taking the car or joining a local sports club or exercise class.

Our leisure centre partners Fusion and our Sports Development team have just published a wide variety of courses for all age groups to get off the sofa and get more active.

I hope you can support our campaign and encourage your friends, family and neighbours to #MoveMoreEnfield

Rat run is just a short cut – why shouldn't motorists use them?

WHAT this borough needs is a Conservative council which is not anti-car.

Sure, cars, lorries and buses all cause congestion but the council has contributed to even more congestion and pollution with their gated roads, chicanes and bus stops sticking out into the roadway.

For example, by Ponders End Tesco on the Hertford Road, there is masses of pavement for buses to pull into a bus layby leading northwards. Also the bus stop before Lincoln Road could be set back. Also cars should be allowed to park two wheels on the pavement where possible, for instance in South Street, Ponders End. This is allowed in Bury Street, N9, Winchester Road, N9, Suffolk Road, N9 and many others.

This is also needed in Nightingale Road, N9 by the school. It is allowed on the other part of Nightingale Road. The school run traffic is parking by the kerb and causing big problems there.

Also what this borough needs is a dual carriageway from Tottenham Hale through to the M25. This would free up so many other roads, for example Hertford Road, Great Cambridge Road, Waltham Way and Sewardstone Road, E4.

If the Cycle Lanes come, things are just going to get worse not better. This has shown to be proven in many other boroughs across the country.

In Chingford residents park in the cycle lanes and who can blame them? They are rarely used and they need to park their cars outside their homes.

As for so-called rat runs, they are short cuts, and who would not take a short cut? Most people do. Broadwalk in Southgate is a short cut or "rat run" if that's what people prefer to call it. I can't see a gate being put up there any time soon. The residents there would not put up with it.

Mr King
Cuckoo Hall Lane
Edmonton

□ IT never ceases to amaze me that the Enfield Tories openly rejected the proposed cycling lanes across the borough.

Now they claim and point the finger at the council for the lack of consultation. Are these people for real?

Under the eight years of Tory misrule (2002-2010) when did the Tories consult the good people of Enfield when they closed Weir library? or Caterhatch Lane recycling plant? If the Tories like a lesson in history, they closed down two schools, shut down children's playgrounds and sold off park land for development.

The Enfield cycling lanes are good for the borough and the well-being of its residents. Perhaps the Tories don't like the cycling lanes because it will enhance the quality of life and make it safer for all. I also believe that the Tories for ideological reasons see it as a means that will be used by many including the people in the poorer parts of the borough in which the Tories, both nationally and locally neglected for decades.

Councillor George Savva
Labour group

□ IT was great to be at the Civic Centre meeting on Thursday September 9 to witness the Cycle Enfield A105 scheme overcome its last hurdle.

Tory leader Terry Neville had 'called in' the scheme at the Overview and Scrutiny Committee for various reasons to do with the consultation process. Cllr Anderson and his officers were able to give robust answers to each of the points, and the committee voted 3-2 to dismiss the call-in. Work on Green Lanes can now begin.

I am so impressed by the professionalism and commitment that Councillor Daniel Anderson and his officers have shown in steering the Cycle Enfield scheme through this lengthy design and consultation process. They have worked on it literally night and day while facing a barrage of opposition - some of it quite nasty and personal. I hope they realise just how significant their work will be in creating a healthier, more people-friendly environment in Enfield. Many thanks and well done to them all.

Thanks to all those who supported me

THROUGH your paper, I would like to say a massive thank you to all my supporters, donors and Bloodwise in supporting me in my recent South Coast Challenge.

Many of you will already know by now that I finished the challenge but it was by far the toughest I have ever entered. I was an endurance cyclist and have always been involved in sport.

Many cycle events were very hard, especially abroad in mountainous areas, as was the London to Cambridge walking challenge last year, but the South Coast Challenge was tough as it was not just walking the very scenic coastal path of the south coast, but walking day and night inland through forestation, very steep climbs of 200 metres-plus on flint and limestone paths, through grassy farmland and almost sheer descents.

A total of 859 participants started on my 100km challenge with Action Challenge; 234 withdrew for various reasons, including fatigue, blisters and bleeding feet, and the sheer physical and mental exhaustion of taking part in such an event.

However, I am pleased and very happy to say that I completed the 100km course in 25 hours and three minutes. I started at 7am in Princes Park, Eastbourne on Saturday April 27 and finished 62.2 miles later at Arundel Football Club on Sunday August 28.

My challenge was not without its problems as my muscles did ache and my feet did throb but the feeling of achievement at finishing was worth all of this and knowing I have raised more than £1,000 for the second year running for Bloodwise - formerly Leukaemia and Lymphoma Research - makes the months of training and effort all the more worthwhile knowing that I, in some small way, am helping in the research into blood cancers and leukaemias.

Pete Davey

So pleased they have seen sense

THERE is good news for anyone who drives to Arnos Grove tube station to drop off or pick up a passenger.

Back in February notices appeared at the station car park warning that any driver who entered to drop off or pick up a passenger would be charged a car parking fee. There is nowhere else that is safe to drop off passengers. The forecourt of the station is a busy drive-through for buses.

For the past six months there have been near-accidents, buses obstructed and arguments as cars, taxis and buses competed for the space.

Now I am delighted to hear from Enfield councillor Daniel Anderson, who has been lobbying TfL and NCP since February, that the signs have been changed, and drivers can enter the car park to pick up or drop off for up to 15 minutes before a charge is levied.

Flapjacks helped man with leukaemia on 100km walk

By Julia Gregory

julia.gregory@nlhnews.co.uk

AN ENDURANCE athlete from Enfield, Pete Davey put his best foot forward – 125,000 times as he completed a gruelling 100km walk despite having leukaemia.

Mr Davey was an endurance cyclist but in 2014 when he was diagnosed with the disease he had to scale back on his cycling. He has completed a series of long walks in slightly more than 24 hours instead.

He took on the London to Cambridge walking challenge last year and this year headed for more hilly terrain joining other walkers on the tough 100k (62 miles).

He completed the long walk and hopes to raise £1,000, which is the amount he raised last year. He did the walk to raise money for the Bloodwise charity, which funds research and support for patients with blood cancers.

Mr Davey is a Nordic pole instructor and walked a minimum of ten to 12 miles a day in the run up to He was one of 625 walkers who completed the walk out of 859 people.

“I finished at number 289 in the field,” he said. “This was by far the toughest event I have done. A lot of it is in the mind and the training.”

Mr Davey said: “I am in remission from my leukaemia. I had six months of chemotherapy and hopefully it will inspire other people with leukaemia if can do this.”

He added: “I enjoyed the walk. It was quite a warm weekend and there was a sea breeze in the first half of the walk through the night.”

He made his own flapjacks to give him energy to keep going and ensured he drank enough fluid along the way, as well as taping up his feet with zinc oxide in a bid to keep blisters at bay.

The 68-year-old from Holland Road in Enfield said his consultant at University College Hospital London is supportive of his fitness endeavours.

Trampoline park may not get off the ground

By Adrain Colley

newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

PLANS for a trampoline park could be doomed if councillors agree with a report recommending refusal at tonight's (Tuesday) meeting of Enfield Council's planning committee.

Trampoline park operator, Jump In, claims 40 full-time jobs would be created if it opens a venture in Enfield.

But the scheme could be scuppered after a report recommended refusal.

Jump In, which already runs indoor parks in Slough and Warwick, wants to open a new venue before the end of the year on the Lumina Industrial Park, off the A10.

If backed it would be kitted out with hundreds of interconnected trampolines, foam pits, padded walls and a designated kids' zone for children as well as a "soft play" area for toddlers.

The premises would also be available for group cross-fit sessions, private party hire and cater for children with disabilities.

Company chairman Vernon West said:

"The launch of the new park will benefit the whole community and will attract people from all ages and abilities, but we expect it will be especially popular with the youngsters aged between five and 15 years old."

He added: "We have received lots of support from the local community already and from local schools, as well as messages of support on social media, and we are all very excited at the prospect of the park opening in Enfield."

Not so much excitement at the planning department though. It says it has had just three letters of support for the project.

Its report says the plan contravenes official council policy as the area is earmarked for industrial use.

And it adds that it would "compromise the primary function and operating conditions of other remaining industrial uses and the potential future use of neighbouring sites for industrial uses".

Councillors were due to make a decision last night (Tuesday) on the report, which recommends the scheme is thrown out.

Special birthday for fire service

FIREFIGHTERS in Enfield threw open the doors of the fire station as part of the 150th birthday celebrations of the emergency service.

Fire crews demonstrated the skills they need to rescue people trapped in a road accident and from a high rise block of flats.

The open day at the station in Carterhatch Lane also gave children a chance to climb into the driver's seat of a fire engine and try on the protective gear and a firefighter's helmet for size.

The open day on Saturday, September 3, was one of 65 held across the capital as London Fire Brigade celebrated its anniversary.

Woman gets her mobility car back

By Julia Gregory
julia.gregory@nlhnews.co.uk

A WOMAN is celebrating the return of her mobility car after she challenged an assessment for a state benefit.

Cathy Walsh from Enfield has the neuralgic condition generalised dystonia, which affects her mobility, her limbs and her speech.

She was told just before Christmas last year that the £290 a month funding for a mobility car would stop after the rules changed with the government's new Personal Independence Allowance.

The former police administrator, who had to give up her job on health grounds, used the money to pay for an automatic car.

She appealed the decision after the assessment ruled that she could walk between 50 to 200 metres.

However, in evidence supplied for her appeal her consultant said at the best she could walk 20 metres "and on a bad day significantly less".

Enfield North MP Joan Ryan raised the case in a debate in Parliament in February.

Freedom: Cathy Walsh is now able to leave home gain

She told MPs that she was concerned about the assessment. Ms Ryan said: "She has had to go down the stressful route of a mandatory reconsideration and an appeal to a tribunal, which is making her condition worse. Her independence has been severely curtailed, at least until the tribunal decision is known, which could be months away."

Mrs Walsh, who is 49, also received support from the Dystonia Association and Enfield Disability Action as she contested the assessment.

She said: "I also had a lot of support from people who don't know me that well but read about it."

The car had to be returned to Motability in the spring while the tribunal considered the case.

Ms Walsh has just had a new car delivered from the Motability Garage on the Great Cambridge Road.

The car has given Mrs Walsh back some freedom and enabled her to leave her home in The Ridgeway.

She said: "When I got the letter telling me I burst out crying.

"My message to people in a similar position is don't give up. Fight for what you are entitled to and make sure you get the right information."

Rich vein of comedy

By Priya Kingsley-Adam

priya.kingsley-adam@nlhnews.co.uk

CRITICALLY acclaimed comedian Rich Hall is renowned for wow-ing audiences with his deadpan, absurdist, ironic comedy.

And the American will be performing his stand-up at the artsdepot, in Never Street, Tally Ho Corner, North Finchley, as part of his UK tour, on Saturday.

Rich is a familiar face on witty quiz television shows including Never Mind the Buzzcocks and QI, but he especially enjoys performing live on stage.

"I love the fact that when a live show is over, it's gone. It's happened, and it will never happen like that again," he says can't be replicated. That's a great magical moment."

Rich also likes the spontaneity of performing on stage.

"In every single show, there are always two or three moments where I'm thinking, 'wow, where did that come from?' You're constantly thinking on your feet."

He recognises that his audience want fresh material, so he always ensures each show is unique.

"I like to do something custom-made every night, otherwise you would just be like a robot. That can really wear you down. Nobody gets more sick of hearing their own voice than a comedian."

Anger is an effective device used in his stand-up, so much so that it has become a trademark in his comedy.

"It is always good to articulate anger. If you don't, you're merely preaching to the converted and asking, 'have you ever noticed?' Yes, we are paying you to notice things we haven't already noticed!"

To see Rich Hall Live 2016 at the artsdepot visit <https://www.artsdepot.co.uk/> or call the box office on 020 8369 5454

Baby boomer Bridget is back!

BRIDGET JONES'S BABY (15, 123 mins)

AS creative pregnancies go, Bridget Jones's Baby has taken longer than most to come full-term.

It's been 12 years since Renee Zellweger adopted a near-flawless English accent to portray the hapless singleton in Bridget Jones: The Edge Of Reason.

In the interim, writer Helen Fielding has delivered a third novel, Bridget Jones: Mad About The Boy, but it's her series of newspaper columns from more than a decade ago that fertilises this haphazard, yet joyful stumble into motherhood.

The third film throws a warm, affectionate and frequently hilarious baby shower for characters we've grown to love and proves that Bridget may have (finally) dieted down to her target dress size, but she's no closer to achieving her Happy Ever After.

Director Sharon Maguire, who helmed Bridget Jones's Diary, and her clucky trio of screenwriters, which includes co-star Emma Thompson, are in a celebratory mood.

They bookmark the heroine's trials and vacillations with nostalgic flashbacks to earlier films reminding us of Bridget's infuriating obsessions and her fitful romantic dalliances with Colin Firth and Hugh Grant's paramours.

"I'm trying not to think I'm past my sexual sell-by date," laments Bridget, as she careens at high speed towards her 43rd birthday without a wedding ring on her finger.

She works as a producer at Hard News alongside old boss Richard Finch (Neil Pearson) and newscaster pal Miranda (Sarah Solemani), who suggests a hedonistic girls-only weekend at a music festival.

Renee Zellweger as Bridget Jones.

The gal pals descend on a muddy field, which Miranda pithily describes as "Sodom and Gomorrah... with tofu".

A late-night blunder into the wrong yurt leads to a spontaneous coupling with a handsome American love guru called Jack Quant (Patrick Dempsey).

A few days later, Bridget is powerless to resist the silky charms of old flame Mark Darcy (Firth), who is separating from his wife.

A pregnancy test at work confirms that

Bridget is about to gain weight. If only she knew who was the father.

Bridget Jones's Baby opens with a blast of the heroine's preferred anthem of self-pity – All By Myself – before a choice expletive kicks her out of a fug and the plot into first gear.

Zellweger slips back into the title role with ease, oozing lovability, fragility and regret as she wonders how to broach the subject of paternity with her two suitors.

Dempsey and Firth are attractive rivals for Bridget's brittle affections and the script keeps us guessing as long as possible about the course of true love.

Set-pieces including a tussle with a revolving door are genuinely hysterical and Thompson nabs several of the best lines as Bridget's despairing obstetrician, including a zinging one-liner that advises expectant fathers against witnessing the miracle of birth firsthand.

Ignorance, like Maguire's rumbustious film, is bliss.

Spacious family houses set to launch in north London

The Oaks, the long-awaited collection of four-bedroom family houses at L&Q's Bolingbroke Park development in Cockfosters, will launch on 24 September.

Arranged in attractive crescents, these red-brick family homes are available from £810,000, offering good-value space for growing families without having to leave London. The semi-detached houses draw on the Victorian architecture that is common in Cockfosters, offering modern but traditional homes. The open-plan kitchen and dining room, as well as the spacious living room, offer plenty of family space, while the four bedrooms – arranged over the first and second floors – allow each member of the family to make the space their own.

The large, private gardens at the Oaks offer plenty of outdoor space for children. Meanwhile, the garden terrace is the perfect space for summer barbecues, sheltered by the mature, native trees that grow onsite. In addition to the generous and secluded gardens at the Oaks, Bolingbroke Park is set in 12 acres of landscaped green outdoor space, including an onsite lake. The grounds provide lots of opportunities for outdoor activities including a woodland path known as the 'Trim Trail', a running and exercise course that winds through the trees close to the water. It also has an 'outdoor gym' with bars for pull-ups and other exercises.

For other outdoor pursuits, Cockfosters offers extensive parks and outdoor spaces. Only minutes away, residents can find Trent Park, a 413-acre country park. This provides more than enough space for family walks, as well as cycling, jogging, and watching the resident deer and pheasants among the rolling meadows and brooks. Another nearby park is Hadley Common, home to the 18th century Mount House and Hadley Hurst Mansion. Families can also take advantage of Oak Hill Park, adjacent to Bolingbroke Park, which features a soft-play area, an independent café and even a mini golf course.

Bolingbroke Park is located close to a thriving centre with a village feel, featuring a range of independent shops, boutiques, cafés and restaurants. The Chickenshed Theatre, a local gem offering everything from children's shows to educational programmes, is just across the street.

While residents enjoy the area's countryside feel, Cockfosters is well-connected to the rest of the capital, with the Piccadilly Line offering easy access to central London. Commuters can be at Oxford Circus or Bank within about half an hour, while Heathrow airport is easily accessible from Bolingbroke Park.

All of this allows residents to enjoy a country lifestyle, and the good value property prices of Cockfosters, while retaining close links to the rest of London.

Cathy Lloyd, L&Q's Sales and Marketing Director, said: "The Oaks offers good-value traditional houses for London families with gardens and plenty of living space. The semi-detached homes enjoy excellent transport links, meaning that residents can easily reach the rest of the city. Meanwhile the village feel of the neighbourhood – and the acres of green space nearby – offer a family-friendly countryside lifestyle." Prices at the Oaks start at £810,000 for a four-bedroom semi-detached home, with three bathrooms and a spacious private garden and patio. Bolingbroke Park's Sales and Marketing Suite is located at Chase Side, Cockfosters EN4 8HT. For more information or to book an appointment visit www.bolingbrokepark.co.uk or call 0333 0033 637.

Few flies in the ointment

By Simon Davis

ALFA Romeo put the Giulietta under the knife earlier this year, updating the hatch's already rather pretty face in the process. A new honeycomb grille features prominently on the car's nose, while piano black bumper inserts and revised headlamps have also been introduced.

Under the hood, the Italian manufacturer's 118bhp 1.6-litre JTDM-2 diesel engine can now be paired with its six-speed twin-clutch automatic transmission. However, while our test car featured this engine, we had to make do with the standard six-speed manual – which is by no means a complaint.

The Giulietta has always been quite the looker, and Alfa's most recent updates only serve to maintain this. The aforementioned new grille design and black inserts on the bumper have been introduced by Alfa to emphasise the car's close ties to its new Giulia saloon – which is arguably one of the best-looking cars to go on sale this year. Unfortunately though, that attractive face hides an interior that is largely dull and now starting to feel quite tired as well.

However, while the Giulietta's interior may be a bit of a let-down when you compare it to the car's exterior, at the end of the day you will still be driving around in an Alfa Romeo. The Alfa badge has always adorned something that is a bit special, and on the Giulietta this is no exception.

When it comes to boot space, the Giulietta is rather middle-of-the-road. With 350 litres worth of capacity on offer, the Alfa comes with more storage room than a Ford Focus' 316-litre boot can offer, but less than a Volkswagen Golf's 380-litre boot. However, if you fold the rear seats down you will increase the Giulietta's capacity to 1,045 litres.

This is where the Alfa starts to make sense. The 1.6-litre, 118bhp diesel engine on our test car felt like it had a fair bit more tug than its numbers suggested, and through the corners the Alfa's nicely weighted steering made the car a fun one to pilot.

Take the Giulietta away from twisting country roads and plonk it on a motorway and you'll find it copes relatively well.

However, there are a couple of flies in the Alfa Romeo's ointment. The pedals are really quite close together, and the seats aren't hugely comfortable – making for a slightly awkward driving position. The biggest issue, though, is the car's steering wheel.

Thanks to its large, chunky size, a significant portion of the speedometer is blocked from view – specifically, the part between 30mph and 80mph. This made trying to catch a glimpse of your speed an annoying process at best, and a dangerous one at worst.

Opt for one of Alfa Romeo's JTDM-2 turbodiesel engines, and the Giulietta will be a fairly inexpensive car to run. Even the most powerful 2.0-litre, 173bhp diesel car still returns a claimed fuel consumption figure of 65.7mpg on the combined cycle.

The 118bhp, 1.6-litre diesel engine we had in our test car carries a claimed combined fuel economy figure of 74.2mpg, and returns 99 grams of CO2 per kilometre, meaning that it is exempt from vehicle excise duty.

All Giuliettas come with a fairly good level of standard equipment, too, which helps justify the slightly expensive £18,700 price tag for the most basic car. Standard kit on the entry-level Giulietta includes 16-inch alloys, an Uconnect infotainment system with a five-inch touchscreen, DAB radio, Bluetooth and smartphone connectivity and LIVE services for internet access. LIVE services are smartphone enabled, and carry features such as music streaming from Deezer and TuneIn, Facebook check-in and Twitter connectivity.

In print... or ONLINE

Tel 020
8364 4040
for more info

In this rapidly moving technological age people are finding new ways to advertise, especially online via the internet. But contrary to what online sites are saying and common assumptions, print advertising is not dead. There are still benefits and disadvantages to both methods and the best way to succeed is to find a vehicle that covers both bases - and that's where we come in!

The Benefits of print advertising:

1. Print adverts last longer and will be seen often.
2. They will be seen by a large number of people and have the ability to hit a specific audience.
3. There is a more creative potential with print advertising.
4. There is a positive perception of newspaper advertising - it will encourage people to think the client is serious.

The Benefits of online advertising:

1. The advert content can be easily updated.
2. It's online 24/7, 12 months a year, all round the world.
3. A massive audience, with all ages now online.
4. Very quick response - you can be receiving candidates hours after posting your advert.

We'll give you the best of both worlds - every week, all week!

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.

2. Classified Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.

3. To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', 'Tf' etc. in the advertisement.

4. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:

(a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;

(b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or

(c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.

5. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.

6. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be changed to the nearest full container. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.

7. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.

8. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republishing or allowances.

9. All gross advertising rates (except classified listings and semi-displays) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.

10. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.

11. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publisher shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.

12. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.

13. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.

14. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.

(1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.

(2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.

15. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for an advertisement(s) should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.

16. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.

17. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publisher's hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.

18. The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

Box Numbers:
Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. Original testimonials, goods, cash, cash stamps or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A box Number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address. There is no charge for forwarding replies.

Box numbers alone are not available for use in 'Trade' advertisements, other than Employment and Business Opportunities.

Holiday & Travel Category
All advertising must contain the name of the advertiser, phone number alone are not permitted.

Data Protection
The service you have requested may require us to carry out a credit search at a credit-referencing agency, which will record the fact that a search has been made. We may need to share your information with other lenders and credit reference agencies. However, we will only use the information from these searches to make credit-granting decisions and, if necessary, for fraud prevention or trading decisions.

Data controller will use your information for administration and analysis. We may share your information with other Capital Media Newspapers Ltd or carefully selected third parties. We, or they, may send you details of other goods and services, which may be of interest to you. The information may be provided by letter, telephone or other reasonable means of communication. Calls may be recorded or monitored for training purposes.

Special conditions apply with regard to the advertising of adult services, which are outlined to all persons submitting such advertisements.

SON PRAISED BY MANAGER

By Dominique Stafford

sport.enfield@nlhnews.co.uk

MANAGER Mauricio Pochettino hailed Son Heung-Min after the South Korean international scored twice to help Tottenham Hotspur cruise to an emphatic 4-0 victory at Stoke City in the Premier League on Saturday.

Having joined Spurs in a big-money move from German outfit Bayer Leverkusen in the summer of 2015, Son struggled to make an impact in his first season in England and failed to secure a regular place in the starting line-up.

This led to speculation that he would be sold in the recent transfer window, with the forward being strongly linked with a move back to Germany.

However, Son ultimately stayed at White Hart Lane and was given his chance to impress by being handed a place in the team at Stoke.

And the 24-year-old showed exactly what he is capable of by scoring the first two goals in a terrific display from Spurs which saw them move up to fifth place in the Premier League table.

"Last season was tough for Son and we had to make the decision, in or out," Pochettino said. "We took the decision for him to stay with us and I'm very pleased now. He had the opportunity to play and show he can help us. We're very pleased for him."

"I'm very happy for Son. He needed to score, he's very important for the team because he can help us. We have a lot of games ahead where we need him and he can be important for the team."

"We need to be conscious that we have a tough season ahead with the Champions League and different cups and the Premier League."

"The depth of the squad is very important, they have to fight for a place. We need all the players ready to compete."

Son's double provided the highlight of an excellent all-round performance from Tottenham, with Dele Alli and Harry Kane also on target, and Pochettino was thrilled with the efforts of his players.

"It was an outstanding – a perfect performance," he added. "We started the game a little sloppy, but after 15 or 20 minutes we got on top, scored the goal and started to handle the game. In the second half we fully deserved the result."

"Every game is a challenge. Our next challenge is Monaco at Wembley and then Sunderland. It's important to take it step by step and to show character, personality and to play in the way we want to play – and try to win, because football is about winning."

Meanwhile, Spurs are likely to set an attendance record for a Champions League match in this country when they take on Monaco at Wembley Stadium tonight.

The club has confirmed that more than 80,000 tickets have been sold for the clash – which would mean the biggest ever attendance for a Champions League tie in this country, as well as a home attendance record for Tottenham.

Borough slump to another home loss

TEN-MAN Haringey Borough slumped to a third successive home defeat in all competitions on Saturday as they were beaten 2-1 by Thurrock in Ryman League Division One North.

Borough had lost 3-0 against Witham Town in the FA Cup and 5-4 against Aveley in the league in their last two outings at Coles Park, and they again ended up with nothing to show for their efforts in this match after a tight contest.

It took the visitors just 12 minutes to break the deadlock as Ronnie Winn's cross was turned into the net by Harry Cook.

But Borough responded well and were denied by the crossbar before Joshua Willer got them back on level terms five minutes into the second half.

This led to a spell of sustained pressure from the hosts, but they were unable to score again and suffered a major setback when Ruaridh Kay saw red on 64 minutes.

With a numerical disadvantage, Borough failed to carry the same threat in attack and the visitors made the most of their extra man to grab the winner through Winn ten minutes from time.

Haringey Borough, who were due to visit AFC Hornchurch in the first round of the Isthmian League Cup last night, face away matches in the league at Bowers and Pitsea on Saturday (3pm) and Thamesmead Town on Tuesday (7.45pm) as they attempt to climb from their current position of 15th in the table.

Late fightback is not enough as Skolars are beaten again

THE London Skolars' campaign came to an end with another defeat as they were 34-30 beaten at Doncaster on Sunday in rugby league's Kingstone Press Championship One Super Eights.

An encouraging series of performances in the regular season had seen the Skolars book their place in the Super Eights to give them a hope of securing promotion, but they struggled to make their mark in this event and ended up languishing at the foot of the table.

However, it was the visitors who struck first in this match as they opened the scoring inside three minutes – Louis Robinson collecting Mike Bishay's pass to touch down under the posts and leave Oscar Thomas with a simple conversion.

Doncaster were back on level terms within five minutes of this though as Louis Sheriff pounced on a loose ball to score a try which Tom Carr converted.

Lifted by this, the hosts then took a firm grip on the match as Sam

Doherty, Connor Scott and Kyle Kesik all crossed the line in quick succession. Carr converted all three tries to give the hosts a 24-6 lead.

The Skolars' gave themselves a glimmer of hope just before the interval when Aaron Small grabbed a converted try in the corner to bring them back within 12 points.

Eddie Mbaraga further reduced the deficit by touching down in the early stages of the second half, and he scored a second try to keep the visitors in touch after David Foggin-Johnston had crossed the line for Doncaster.

Jordan Howden looked to have made the game safe for the hosts when he claimed a converted try on 66 minutes, but the Skolars mounted a storming fightback in the closing stages – with James Hill and Lamek Juma both touching down.

However, the strong finish was not quite enough for the visitors as Doncaster held on for the win – bringing the Skolars' season to a disappointing conclusion.
